Description

Boot Class = Elite

The best of the best. Elite football boots are the boots professional players wear on-pitch, made using the highest quality materials and featuring the latest technologies and innovations. The premium option for players who demand the best possible performance from their boots.

Ultra

Designed to meet the demands of the game's fastest players, the Ultra is built for uncatchable speed.

PUMA worked closely with elite-level pros during its initial development, utilising their feedback along with insight from their top sprinters in other sports. And by top, we really mean top - the soleplate takes inspiration from Usain Bolt's running spikes.

The Ultra's also where PUMA employ their latest material tech, incorporating technologies such as MATRYXEVO and ULTRAWEAVE in the upper to give you the perfect combination of lightweight comfort, support, and durability.

First introduced in 2020, the Ultra continues the legacy of the evoSPEED - the hugely popular PUMA speed boot of the 2010s - and boasts some suitably rapid players among its fans. Blazing-fast wingers Christian Pulisic and Kingsley Coman both wear the Ultra Ultimate, as does one of the few defenders that can keep up with them, Theo Hernandez. If you fancy your chances against those three, get yourself a pair of Ultras and switch on the afterburners.
